

CAR COMPANIES. REACH AGREEMENT

No Trouble Exists Over the Receiver-ship.
FOR THE PUBLIC'S BENEFIT.

President Patton Does Not Want the Public to Suffer Slightest Inconvenience—Conference Held.

The public will not be in any way inconvenienced, according to the plans of Major James D. Patton, president of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company, due to the action of Judge Wallcut in refusing an order appointing Major Beverly H. Selden receiver of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company, whose lines extend from Highland Park over the Five Bridge to Forest Hill Park and through Manchester.

Yesterday Major James D. Patton, president of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company, addressed the following letter to Major Selden:

MAJOR PATTON'S LETTER.
Richmond, Va., June 9, 1900.
B. R. Selden, Esq., Receiver,
R. and M. Railway Company, city.
Dear Sir:

Yours bearing date June 8th was handed me late last night, at the same time the order appointing you Receiver of that line, and an order appointing Major Beverly H. Selden receiver of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company, was served upon me.

Of course, it is my intention to carry out the order of the court, and to obey the same. In carrying out these orders, it will be the aim of this company to do so in such manner as to occasion the least inconvenience to the public.

I will meet you at the office of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company at such time as may suit your convenience for carrying out the orders of the court. At the same time we can discuss the arrangements suggested in your letter and see if we cannot arrive at some conclusion that will give the public the least inconvenience.

Very truly yours,
J. D. PATTON,
President R. & P. Co.

AGREEMENT REACHED.
This morning there was a conference between the interested parties, and the following agreement was arrived at:

Agreement between J. D. Patton, President of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company, and B. R. Selden, Receiver of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company, made this 8th day of June, 1900:

1. It is agreed that for the next ten days the condition of the poles, wires and electrical equipments of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company in the cities of Richmond and Manchester and those of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company in said cities shall remain as they are at present, except that the Receiver shall have the right to make his connections at Seventh and Hull Streets, in the city of Manchester, with the two lines of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company, and to run his cars as he may deem proper upon the Hull-Street line of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company.

2. That the Receiver shall use the tracks of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company between Seventh and Franklin and Seventh and Clay Streets, in the city of Richmond, under such terms and compensation as was fixed in the award made several years ago by the old company.

3. The Richmond Passenger and Power Company is to have the right to continue to use the tracks of the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company.

4. That the Receiver shall use the tracks of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company between Seventh and Franklin and Seventh and Clay Streets, in the city of Richmond, under such terms and compensation as was fixed in the award made several years ago by the old company.

5. This agreement is to continue for at least ten days, but the Receiver shall have the right during that time to erect, construct, run all the necessary wires and electrical overhead construction between Seventh and Franklin and Seventh and Clay Streets, in Richmond, upon the poles now standing between those points, and to make all overhead lines that may be necessary at Seventh and Hull Streets, in Manchester.

6. Neither party is bound by anything in this agreement as recognizing any ownership of any property in the other party, but by the fact that the question of compensation for the use of all poles, wires, power and other electrical equipments and tracks, except those tracks between Seventh and Franklin and Seventh and Clay Streets, in Richmond, shall be determined by arbitration, each party to select one arbitrator, who are to select the umpire, and their award, when signed by two of said arbitrators, to be binding on both parties, arbitrators to be appointed within five days from date.

7. Both parties agree to meet in the meantime, to discuss permanent arrangements during litigation.

8. Each party to require that its lines shall receive the transfer issued by the arbitrators on the lines of the other party, such transfers not to be redeemed by either party, but no transfers to be received at Seventh and Hull Streets, in Manchester. The Receiver is to take, instead of a cash fare, any tickets issued by the Richmond Passenger and Power Company, such tickets to be presented by said Receiver at the main office of the Richmond Passenger and Power Company each morning and then there redeemed at the rate of six for a quarter. The Receiver is not to use power to be furnished by the Richmond Passenger and Power Company in excess of that now used by the Richmond and Manchester Railway Company over and above what may be needed for four additional cars, but the Richmond Passenger and Power Company is not to be liable for any inability to furnish such additional power. Done in duplicate.

are so far apart in their views that it seems impossible for them to get together. One member, a young man named Nebel, is widely at variance with the older heads, the majority of the jury having shown a willingness to reach an understanding by this evening, each an understanding, confidential information says, as is favorable to Riddick.

The defense states that they will appeal in case the verdict is other than an acquittal, on the grounds of insanity. Shortly before 2 P. M. the jury again came in and the foreman reported that they were still unable to agree. He said they were so far apart he did not think a verdict could be reached. The judge sent the jury back to their room.

RIDDICK'S JEALOUSY.
At 2:15 P. M. the jury came in to ascertain whether or not Mrs. Riddick had testified that her husband was of a very jealous disposition. Reference to the stenographer's notes showed that she had given such testimony. The jury then retired.

BONDS FORFEITED IN PETERSBURG

Contract With New Railroad is Not Completed.

TIME MAY YET BE EXTENDED

A. P. Hill Camp Inaugurates a Movement to Erect a Confederate Monument in Petersburg—Sites Being Discussed.

PETERSBURG, VA., June 9.—Special.—The Council held no meeting to-night for want of a quorum. To-morrow is the last day for the completion of the Richmond, Petersburg and Carolina branch of the Seaboard Air-Line Railway Company under DeWitt Smith's contract with the city of Petersburg.

The road has not been completed, according to the full terms of the contract, and the $150,000 in bonds held by the city as security will, therefore, be forfeited. It is not known definitely what effect the adjournment of the Council to-night without action will have, but it is believed that another meeting will be called, and the time for the completion of the road extended.

THE VETERANS.
A. P. Hill Camp has appointed a committee to formulate plans for the raising of money necessary to erect a monument to the memory of General A. P. Hill. Messrs. Robert Gilliam (chairman), General Stith Bolling, H. C. Roper, H. R. Smith, Simon Seward, Dr. W. E. Harwood and Father J. T. O'Farrell are the committee.

Ten years ago an effort was made to raise money for this purpose, and about $400 was secured. The money has been in bank since that time.

Petersburg has no monument to commemorate the deeds of her heroes, while there is scarcely a hamlet in the State but which has a monument to "Our Confederate Dead."

Many sites are spoken of as the proper place for the erection of a monument to General Hill, and Central Park will probably be the place decided on.

Mr. H. W. George, the mail clerk, who was injured in the recent Atlantic Coast Line wreck, continues to improve.

Strickland, Va., enjoys the unique distinction of being the only town in the State in which no negro lives.

This town is just across the river from Petersburg, and will be one of its boroughs when Petersburg wishes to enlarge its boundaries to become a greater city. Strickland has twelve hundred inhabitants, and is spread out over a vast area. The inhabitants, for the most part, work in the factories and mills on that side of the river. They will not tolerate negroes, and not one of that race lives within the limits of the town.

Infant Dead.
The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Holleran died at the residence of her parents last night. Whooping cough was the cause of the death. The funeral will take place from St. Mary's Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The parents have the sympathy of their many friends. It is just two weeks since they buried their little three-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Gertrude.

Off for the North.
Mr. C. P. Cardwell will leave to-morrow for Boston, where he will remain for about a week. Mr. Cardwell has not been in the best of health of late, and hopes to be benefited by the trip North.

Good Templars to Meet.

A meeting of the Good Templars and those interested will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in Pickett Camp Hall. The object of the meeting is to establish a lodge in this city and will be addressed by the Grand Chief Templar, Rev. W. F. Sheppard, of Claremont, and the Grand Secretary, Mr. George W. Hawhurst, of Fall's Church.

Proved to Be Smallpox.

Dr. McGuire Newton returned from Northumberland county last night, where he had been summoned to make expert diagnosis of supposed cases of smallpox existing in one of the towns. Dr. Newton found only one case, and the victim has been isolated and a quarantine established.

Food will lay in the stomach undigested for days and then you wonder why you feel ill. Cleanse the bowels with the Bitters and you will not suffer from Belching, Heartburn or Bileousness. It will strengthen your stomach.
